

Bird, Zachariah and Zoe have come from very far away. The children live with their grandmother and this is the first time they have come to the gathering by themselves. They had been a little nervous, but as soon as they arrived they found so many friends they felt right at home. Bird even saw his long lost...

