

Ant has scurried quickly over the rough terrain carrying Sadie on her back.
They sang songs together as they traveled. Upon arriving, Ant went to find his cousins nearby and Sadie helped set up for the gathering. She was in charge of collecting the fruits. Several years ago they had made baskets that they strapped to their backs. Usually they found blackberries and blueberries at this time of year but today they found some wild strawberries too!
"What a feast we shall have" she said.
And then she saw some huge, ripe...
