

Pink Cloud Village had been built long, long ago. No Elf alive is old enough to remember it, but before they moved to the sky, the Elves had, in fact, lived on earth in the Land of the Crystal Caves. The oldest books in the village have tales of the beautiful land and the giants, dragons, volcanos and even ogres that contributed to them moving. But they may all be just that - tales. Sometimes the young elves sit around the star fires making up what they think may have happened...

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---

---