

The elf and owl look forward to the day of their meeting all year long. Each year, they bring each other a gift of some treasure they have found during the year that made them think of one another. This year, Elind has brought Owl a piece of pink silk dyed by his sister Ora with the color from a petal that had blown up on the wind from the earth below.
Owl loved it and said he would bring it back to his home. Owl had a special gift for Elind too. It was a round...
