

The fox hears the "Tu-whit tu-who" of the wise old owl and heads in that direction. He smells the faint scent of spring in the air and hurries faster...

