

If there's one thing she loves the most it's dancing. Anka dances everywhere she goes. It's as if she hears music in the wind and in the very heartbeat of the earth. Today, as she dances in the chilly morning air, someone joins in to Anka's great delight...

