

Sometimes Mother Hawthorne will tell stories about the day she first came to the forest as a young girl. The first to be kind to her was a fairy and this is where her lifelong friendship with the fairies began. Just as the little girl was about to give up hope a fairy came and whispered in her ear. She said...

A series of horizontal dashed lines for writing, spanning the width of the page.

A series of horizontal dashed lines for writing, located at the bottom of the page.