

Goose lives with us in our home. She even has a bed in our small little room. She sleeps in a basin on a bed of soft wool and sings us to sleep with her sweet goosey coos. She woke us up early this day of parade because it is her favorite day of all days. Why? you might ask, I'll tell you I will. It's because of her sister who lives at the top of the hill. Her sister has the most amazing...
