

Minnow Moor is a magnificent place of water and cattails all at slow pace except for Manfred whose energy abounds, as he swings from the trees and makes his rounds. He is the protector of the birds and the fish who live in the moor "Come make a wish," the heron says, "before you go. A double rainbow means wish as everybody knows." "Ok" says Mani as he closes his eyes...

