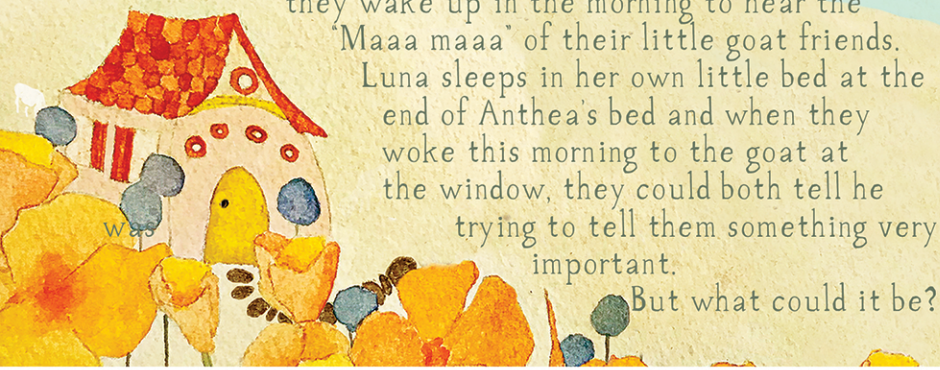
The chicks like to investigate everything that happens on the farm. These two spend all day going from flower patch to grassy fields nibbling as they go. Just today they had found several bugs, a tiny green worm each and they had spent quite some time chasing an itsy bitsy grasshopper, that they never caught! But now they've found something far more interesting. Looking closer they see it's a...

On their way to the pond mama duck tells here ducklings to stay close. They must watch for fox and other predators. They sing as they waddle along. When they arrive at the pond the ducklings hope that their friend the big white dog will be there. It is so much fun to stand on his back while he swims...

Sometimes the sheep from Farmer Aja's place venture over to Anthea and Luna's farm. The two of them love it when they wake up in the morning to hear the "Maaa maaa" of their little goat friends. Luna sleeps in her own little bed at the end of Anthea's bed and when they woke this morning to the goat at the window, they could both tell he was trying to tell them something very important.

But what could it be?



Benji the kid would always remember Anthea and Luna from the first day of his life when they cared for him. As he grew up they would remain friends and Benji especially enjoyed nibbling the sweet grass that grew near Anthea's flowers. He loved to join the farmer and pig as they sang to the flowers each morning...

Little bunny dreams of running through the flowers just as he had this morning when he chased his friend mouse in a game of tag. As they ran through the fields he had only stopped to nibble on a fresh shoot one time. That was when he had seen the...

Farmer Henry lives at the top of the tallest hill. From his little cottage he can see the sun rise in the east and set in the west. This morning, as he drinks his tea, he decides that today he will build a house for his pea plants to climb up and over. When his grandchildren visit they will be delighted! As he builds, a little pea sprite pops up and asks Farmer Henry what he is up to. At first Henry is a little startled, but once they get to talking it's as if they've been friends forever. The sprite, who is called _____, is now Farmer Henry's official helper...
